TAB to Refund Losing Bets on Australian Greyhound Race

The New Zealand TAB announced today that as a result of an incorrect box draw it is to refund losing bets on Australian Greyhound Race 4 on Sunday 23 September.

The racefield displayed for the Australian Greyhound race was incorrect due to a redraw being completed post acceptances. Unfortunately the New Zealand TAB was not notified of this change and the field supplied by the official source was displayed.

Customers with TAB accounts who placed bets on the Australian Greyhound race will have the refund automatically placed into their accounts.

Customers who made a cash bet on the race will need to go into their local TAB and complete a claim form. However, the TAB will require supporting evidence such as where the bet was purchased and at what time, or a copy of the bet ticket to verify the claim before any refund is made.

The New Zealand TAB apologises for any inconvenience resulting from this error.
